Article 12 : Force majeure

The FFN shall not be held liable for any failure to perform, late performance, or imperfect performance of its obligations due to a force majeure event as defined in Article 1218 of the Civil Code, which may result in the total cancellation, partial cancellation, partial or total postponement of the 2026 EAC, or the organization of the 2026 EAC behind closed doors or with reduced capacity (taking into account the normal capacity of the competition venues), thereby forcing it to cancel all or part of the tickets ordered for the 2026 EAC. For all intents and purposes, force majeure shall include any endemic diseases, epidemics, and pandemics, as well as any decisions taken by governmental, public, administrative, or judicial authorities to combat them, which are binding on the FFN and have an impact on the organization of the 2026 EAC.

Article 13 : Resolution of the contract and refund

The cancellation due to force majeure of all or part of the tickets ordered under 2026 EAC will result in the automatic termination of the contract between the FFN and the purchasers of the canceled tickets. The purchaser, whether an individual or an authorized representative of a legal entity, will receive a refund for their ticket on the credit card used for the purchase, at a date and according to terms that will be communicated at a later date by the FFN. If payment was not made by credit card, if the credit card is no longer valid, or if it is not possible to proceed with the refund by this means for any reason, the purchaser will contact the FFN to provide the means of payment to which the refund should be made. The information will specify the amount of the credit note, as well as the conditions regarding its validity period and duration.

Where applicable, within three (3) months of notification of the termination of the contract, purchasers whose tickets have been canceled will be offered a new service allowing them to use the credit note, of the same nature and category as the service provided for in the terminated contract, at a price not exceeding that of the service provided for in the said contract, and giving rise to no price increase other than those that may result from the purchase of associated services.

The persons concerned will be informed of the period during which they may accept the FFN's proposal. This period will take effect from the date of receipt of the FFN's proposal and may not in any event exceed eighteen (18) months. If no contract is concluded for the new service at the end of the validity period determined by the FFN, the FFN will refund all payments made for the purchase of the canceled tickets.

In this case, the purchaser will be refused entry to the CAO MGP premises and will not be entitled to claim any refund or compensation.

Any violation by the purchaser or ticket holder of any of the provisions of the T&Cs and/or the CAO MGP rules of procedure while on the premises of the CAO MGP may result in their expulsion from the Site. Expulsion will automatically result in the confiscation of the offending person's ticket. No refund or compensation will be paid.

In the event that the offender has purchased or is in possession of one or more tickets for several 2026 EAC sessions following their expulsion, the FFN reserves the right to cancel said tickets.

The fact that the FFN does not invoke a violation by the purchaser or ticket holder of one of the provisions of the T&Cs shall not be interpreted as a waiver by the FFN of its right to invoke said violation at a later date.

Article 16 : Miscellaneous

Prior to the first Session, the FFN reserves the right to modify these T&Cs if necessary in order to ensure the smooth running of the Sessions.

If any provisions of these T&Cs are deemed unenforceable, illegal, or inapplicable by any court, regulatory body, or competent authority, all other provisions of the T&Cs shall remain in full force and effect.

The T&Cs have been written in French. They will be available on the 2026 EAC ticketing platform or via the address : ticketing.eac2026@ffnatation.fr
